

HAND LIFT SLUICE GATES

The Aquafix hand lift sluice gates are used in surface water, are sewerwater pipeline systems, local irrigation & fish farms. These sluice gates are manufactured in our own factory from durable 1st class quality HDPE. Standard equipped with a rising handgrip. Our hand lift sluice gates consist of a vertical movable sliding plate which closes the supply, the watertightness is guaranteed by the use of an EPDM seal which is fitted in the back plate. In this way, the water pressure on both sides is blocked and the sluice gates are tested and found suitable for a maximum operating water pressure equal to the overall depth. Our hand lift sluice gates are manufactured with a round inlet-opening but also square-, rectangular- or egg-shaped is available on request. The basic version is suitable for wall mounting but optional can also be supplied with a spigot. Depending the application of the sluice gate we are able to adjust the product materials on the characteristics of the liquid involved to guarantee the maintenance free functionality, i.e. by use of aggressive fluids. On request it is possible to customize production in many dimensions. This type of sluice gate is suitable for sealing horizontal pipelines.
